On the websites sahkolaitos.fi, tampereesahkoverkko.fi, and sahkis.fi

Cookies refer to data that a web server stores on a user's device. Cookies enable the proper function of websites and improve the user experience. Individual website users cannot be identified by cookies.

What cookies are used and why?

We use cookies to improve the performance of the website, monitor the website's visitor analytics, and target the provided services. The use of our website requires the installation of certain mandatory cookies during the first visit. Mandatory cookies are only related to the functionality of the website. For instance, the Merlin customer service chat cookie is one of these. Voluntary cookies for analytics and service targeting will only be enabled after they have been accepted. For example, Google Analytics is one of these. A session ID identifies the user so that they do not have to click the cookie notification again during the same day.

Cookies are automatically deleted from the user's computer no later than one year after the last visit to the website. Of the personnel of Tampereen Sähkölaitos and partner companies, cookies are only handled by persons who need to process them due to their work tasks.

How can I block the use of cookies?

You can close the cookie acceptance window, in which case the optional cookies will not be enabled. The website will work even if you do not accept the cookies.
